

Christopher McComish
Executive Vice-President, Head of Personal Banking,
Personal and Commercial Banking U.S.

Mr. McComish is Executive Vice-President and Head of Personal Banking, Personal and Commercial Banking U.S. He is responsible for executing strategy and driving performance of Harris' retail banking network, consisting of more than 3,500 employees and more than 270 branches across Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. He also has direct responsibility for retail product management, distribution, sales support, operations and lending, and works in partnership with business banking and wealth in delivering the bank's capabilities to its customers and communities.

Mr. McComish's career encompasses over 20 years of experience in retail and commercial banking. He joined Harris from Wachovia N.A., where he most recently served as the Executive Vice-President - Community Banking Executive Director. In this role, he was responsible for creating strategy and driving performance for 92 markets in seven states, consisting of nearly 300 bankers and market leaders and 700 branches.

Mr. McComish earned a bachelor of arts degree in international economics from Ohio Wesleyan University.

(April 2011)
