

Richard Rudderham
Executive Vice-President and Head of Human Resources, BMO Financial Group

Richard Rudderham is Executive Vice-President and Head of Human Resources reporting to the President and Chief Executive Officer and is a member of the bank's Management Committee.

Mr. Rudderham joined BMO in 1989 and held a variety of roles within Corporate and Institutional Financial Services and Personal and Commercial Client Group including Senior Vice-President, British Columbia Division, P&C Canada from 2003 to 2008.

In 2008, Mr. Rudderham was appointed Senior Vice-President, Institute for Learning, Human Resources, and in June 2010, he was named Deputy Head of Human Resources and Senior Vice-President, Institute for Learning.

Mr. Rudderham sits on the Board of Directors of the British Columbia Institute of Technology and LIME Canada – an organization that works with universities and corporations to identify employment opportunities for people with disabilities.

Mr. Rudderham holds an MBA from Wilfred Laurier University and a Bachelor of Mathematics from the University of Waterloo.

(February 2011)
