

ANNUAL MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE

BMO Equal Weight Global Base Metals Hedged to CAD Index ETF (ZMT) (the “ETF”)

For the 12-month period ended December 31, 2022 (the “Period”)

Manager: BMO Asset Management Inc. (the “Manager” and “portfolio manager”)

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The ETF seeks to replicate, to the extent possible, the performance of an equal weight global base metals companies index, net of expenses. Currently, the ETF seeks to replicate the performance of the Solactive Equal Weight Global Base Metals Index Canadian Dollar Hedged (the “Index”). The investment strategy of the ETF is to invest in and hold the constituent securities of the Index in the same proportion as they are reflected in the Index and use derivative instruments to hedge back to the Canadian dollar. The Manager may also use a sampling methodology in selecting investments for the ETF. As an alternative to or in conjunction with investing in and holding the constituent securities, the ETF may invest in or use certain Other Securities (as defined in the prospectus) to obtain exposure to the performance of the Index.

Risk

The risks associated with an investment in the ETF remain as disclosed in the ETF’s most recent prospectus or any amendments thereto and ETF facts. During the Period, there were no changes to the ETF that materially affected the overall risk level associated with an investment in the ETF. The Manager reviewed the ETF using the standardized investment risk classification methodology prescribed by National Instrument 81-102 Investment Funds and determined on January 17, 2022 that the risk rating of the ETF had not changed. The Manager reviews the ETF’s investment risk level and reference index, if any, at least annually.

Results of Operations

The ETF outperformed the broad-based MSCI World Total Return Index by 8.48%. However, the more appropriate comparison is to the Solactive Equal Weight Global Base Metals Index Canadian Dollar Hedged (the “Index”), due to the concentration of the portfolio in global base metals companies. The ETF returned -7.56% versus the Index return of -7.66%. The change in total net asset value during the Period from approximately $62 million to approximately $43 million had no impact on the performance of the ETF. The difference in the performance of the ETF relative to the Index during the Period (0.10%) resulted from the management expense ratio (-0.61%) and the impact of sampling and certain other factors (0.71%), which may have included timing differences versus the Index, and market volatility.

Market Conditions

Global equities declined over the Period largely over concerns of rising inflation, ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine, and rising interest rates which led to increased concerns of an economic slowdown. The U.S. Consumer Price Index (CPI) rose 7.1% year-over-year as of the last published rate for the Period. The U.S. equity market, as measured by the S&P 500 Index, returned -12.2% (in Canadian dollars) over the Period. The U.S. Federal Reserve Board (“Fed”) moved aggressively on the overnight lending rate to try to curb inflation, moving the target rate to 4.5% from 0.25% at the beginning of the Period. The significant positive contributors to performance from a sector perspective were Energy and Health Care, while the significant negative contributors were Information Technology, Consumer Discretionary, and Communications Services.

The Canadian equity market, as measured by the S&P/TSX Capped Composite Index, returned -5.8% over the Period, while the Canadian CPI rose 6.8% year-over-year as of November 2022. The Bank of Canada (“BoC”) moved aggressively on the overnight lending rate to try to curb inflation, moving to 4.25% from 0.25% at the beginning of 2022. The significant positive contributor to performance from a sector perspective was Energy, while the significant negative contributors were Information Technology and Financials. The volatile price of oil was a major economic impact, as measured by West Texas Intermediate Oil (WTI) which peaked at US$124 finishing at US$80 per barrel at the end of the Period. Canadian banks fell as investors grew concerned that the BoC’s aggressive monetary tightening campaign would lead to a recession. Despite inflation reaching multi-year highs, gold prices remained relatively stable, ending the Period at US$1,824 per ounce.

International equities, as measured by the MSCI EAFE Index, returned -8.2% (in Canadian dollars) over 2022. The Eurozone and Japan CPI rose 9.2% and 3.7% year-over-year respectively as of December 2022. Japan equities, the largest country weight in the MSCI EAFE Index detracted from performance, while United Kingdom equities made a modest contribution to performance. Positive contribution to performance came from the Energy and Financials sectors, while negative contribution to performance came from the Information Technology, Industrials, and Consumer Discretionary sectors.

Steel boosted the ETF’s performance the most and Industrial Machinery, while negative, pushed returns higher. The Aluminum and Diversified Metals & Mining sectors detracted the most from performance. In terms of individual stock contributors, Turquoise Hill Resources Ltd. and Ati Inc. elevated returns the most while Solaris Resources Inc. and Emerita Resources Corp. proved to be among the biggest detractors from returns. The ETF’s exposure to United States and Australia contributed the most to performance from a regional perspective. Canada and Brazil were among the major detractors.

Recent Developments

Base metals had a punishing 2022 as global demand suffered from the lockdown in China, a strong U.S. dollar, and weaker industrial production in western countries. With the Chinese economy just reopening and the country’s government eager to expand measures to support the economy and demand, there is burgeoning optimism that base metals will benefit from renewed and boosted demand in the coming months. The tailwind to the fortune of base metals in 2023 should be further supported by a low level of global stockpiles and the bet that more dovish central banks are expected to be less aggressive to help the growth outlook as they try to find a path to an economic soft landing. Softer global metal production outputs combined with the weakening of the dollar in which commodities are priced in, should bode well for base metals and support a strong performance in 2023 for the sector.

In February 2022, hostilities commenced in Ukraine. In response, a number of countries have imposed economic sanctions on Russia and certain Russian citizens and entities. The impact of the hostilities, economic sanctions and other measures may have wide-ranging global effects on price volatility for securities and commodities as well as the stability of global financial markets. It is uncertain how long the hostilities, economic sanctions and market instability will continue and whether they will escalate further.

Related Party Transactions

From time to time, the Manager may, on behalf of the ETF, enter into transactions or arrangements with or involving other members of BMO Financial Group, or certain other persons or companies that are related or connected to the Manager (each a “Related Party”). The purpose of this section is to provide a brief description of any transactions involving the ETF and a Related Party.

Manager

The Manager, an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of Montreal (“BMO”), is the portfolio manager, trustee and promoter of the ETF. The Manager is paid a management fee by the ETF as compensation for its services, which is described in the “Management Fees” section later in this document.

Designated Broker

The Manager has entered into an agreement with BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., an affiliate of the Manager, to act as designated broker and dealer for distribution of BMO exchange traded funds, on terms and conditions that are comparable to arm’s length agreements in the exchange traded funds industry. The material terms and conditions of the agreement have been disclosed in the ETF’s prospectus.

BMO Equal Weight Global Base Metals Hedged to CAD Index ETF

The Manager has also entered into agreements with certain other registered dealers in Canada to act as dealers for the creation and redemption of units of BMO exchange traded funds.

Buying and Selling Securities

During the Period, the ETF relied on standing instructions provided by the independent review committee (“IRC”) for any of the following related party transactions that may have occurred in the ETF (each, a “Related Party Transaction”):

- (a) investments in securities issued by BMO, an affiliate of the Manager, or any other issuer related to the Manager;
 - (b) investments in a class of securities of an issuer during the period of distribution of those securities to the public and/or the 60-day period following the distribution period where BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., an affiliate of the Manager, or any other affiliate of the Manager acted as an underwriter in the distribution;
 - (c) trades in over-the-counter debt securities in the secondary market with BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., or any other affiliate of the Manager, acting as principal in the Canadian debt securities market; and
 - (d) trades of a security of any issuer from or to, another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate of the Manager or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate of the Manager.
- In accordance with the IRC’s standing instructions, in making a decision to cause the ETF to enter into a Related Party Transaction, the Manager and the portfolio manager of the ETF are required to comply with the Manager’s written policies and procedures governing the Related Party Transaction and report periodically to the IRC, describing each instance that the Manager relied on the standing instructions and its compliance or non-compliance with the governing policies and procedures. The governing policies and procedures are designed to ensure that each Related Party Transaction (i) is made free from any influence of BMO, BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. or an associate or affiliate of BMO and/or BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. and without taking into account any considerations relevant to BMO, BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. or an associate or affiliate of BMO and/or BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc.; (ii) represents the business judgment of the Manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the ETF; and (iii) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the ETF.

Brokerage Commissions

The ETF pays standard brokerage commissions at market rates to BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., an affiliate of the Manager, for executing a portion of its trades. The brokerage commissions charged to the ETF (excluding exchange and other fees) during the periods were as follows:

		2022	2021

⁽⁴⁾ The ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the ETF's portfolio manager manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher an ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of an ETF.

⁽⁵⁾ As at the close of business on January 25, 2019, the Listed CAD Units were consolidated on the basis of a 1:5 ratio. The net assets per unit as at December 31, 2019 of $44.31 is after the consolidation of units as at January 25, 2019.

As compensation for its services, the Manager is entitled to receive a management fee payable quarterly and calculated based on the daily net asset value of the ETF at the annual rate set out in the table below.

The management fee is subject to applicable taxes. The Manager may, from time to time in its discretion, waive all or a portion of the management fee charged.

Past Performance

The ETF's performance information assumes that all distributions made by the ETF in the periods shown were used to purchase additional units of the ETF and is based on the net asset value of the ETF.

The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance. Please remember that how the ETF has performed in the past does not indicate how it will perform in the future.

On September 15, 2017, in addition to the ETF changing its name from BMO S&P/TSX Equal Weight Global Base Metals Hedged to CAD Index ETF to BMO Equal Weight Global Base Metals Hedged to CAD Index ETF, the underlying index of the ETF changed from S&P/TSX Equal Weight Global Base Metals CAD Hedged Index to Solactive Equal Weight Global Base Metals Index Canadian Dollar Hedged. The change to the new Index aligns with the current investment objective and strategies of the ETF. This change could have affected the performance of the ETF, had it been in effect throughout the performance measurement periods presented.

The following bar chart shows the performance of the ETF for each of the financial years shown, and illustrates how the ETF's performance has changed year to year.
