MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Results of Operations

During the Period, the Fund’s total net asset value changed from approximately $3,733 million to approximately $3,812 million. Series A units of the Fund returned 6.76%. Please see the Past Performance section for information on the performance returns of the Fund’s other series.

Over the Period, Canadian equity markets were volatile as a result of changing global economic conditions, slower growth and lower oil prices. The Bank of Canada (“BoC”) raised interest rates 125 basis points to end the period at a 4.50% benchmark interest rate. The S&P/TSX Composite Total Return Index gained 10.8% driven primarily by the Information Technology (up 42.3%) and Materials (up 16.2%) sectors. The worst performing sectors were Health Care (-11.0%) and Utilities (-3.3%).

U.S. equity markets gained, fueled by optimism around a resilient economic outlook. Easing inflationary pressures solidified the belief that the U.S. Federal Reserve Board (“Fed”) was reaching the end of its cycle of interest rate increases, a positive development for equities. The S&P 500 Index posted a total return of 15.6% (in U.S.-dollar terms) and 13.9% (in Canadian-dollar terms). Information Technology was the strongest-performing sector, gaining 27.6% over the Period (in U.S.-dollar terms), while Consumer Discretionary was the worst-performing sector, gaining 4.2% (in U.S.-dollar terms).

Over the Period, international equities gained. China’s economic reopening, a milder-than-expected winter in Europe, lower energy prices and exaggerated pessimism in the region drove the equity market rally. The European Central Bank was expected to continue on a more aggressive trajectory in 2023. Banking sector stress and the struggles at Credit Suisse Group AG weighed on equities in March. Despite these struggles, Europe, Australasia, Far East (EAFE) equity markets performed well, posting a total return of 27.3% (in U.S.-dollar terms) and 25.4% (in Canadian-dollar terms).

An overweight allocation to equities and underweight allocation to fixed income securities contributed to the Fund’s performance as equities outperformed. The Fund’s positioning in protected equities (those with a protective option overlay) contributed to performance, as the positioning was able to capture more market growth than the benchmark. The Fund’s exposure to long-term U.S. Treasuries contributed to the Fund’s performance as interest rates declined in the wake of U.S. regional banking turmoil.

The Fund’s exposure to low-volatility equities detracted from performance. Their performance was strong, but not as strong as the benchmark.

The portfolio manager added a new position in U.S. aggregate bonds, which is viewed as a portfolio diversifier against U.S. equities. A new exposure to long-term U.S. Treasuries was added to the Fund as long-term interest rates peaked. The Fund’s core fixed income holdings were reduced to add to the tactical positions noted above.

For information on the Fund’s performance and composition, please refer to the Past Performance section and Summary of Investment Portfolio section of this report.

Recent Developments

With continued uncertainty surrounding the persistence of inflation, as well as the potential for a global recession, the portfolio manager expects volatility in the equity market to remain elevated. The degree to which these inflationary pressures affect other parts of the global economy will be a large factor in the economic growth that can be expected going forward.

In order to reduce the Fund's overall volatility, as well as provide potential for equity market growth, the portfolio manager will continue to allocate to equities with a dynamic collar (buying a downside put while simultaneously selling an upside call) strategy. Low-volatility equities are another way to maintain growth potential with less volatility than the broader market. In addition, a tilt toward lower-duration (interest rate sensitivity) fixed income securities should help reduce volatility associated with rapidly changing interest rates, as inflation concerns continue to persist.

In February 2022, hostilities commenced in Ukraine. In response, a number of countries have imposed economic sanctions on Russia and certain Russian citizens and entities. The impact of the hostilities, economic sanctions and other measures may have wide-ranging global effects on price volatility for securities and commodities as well as the stability of global financial markets. It is uncertain how long the hostilities, economic sanctions and market instability will continue and whether they will escalate further.

RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

From time to time, the Manager may, on behalf of the Fund, enter into transactions or arrangements with or involving other members of BMO Financial Group, or certain other persons or companies that are related or connected to the Manager (each a "Related Party"). The purpose of this section is to provide a brief description of any transaction involving the Fund and a Related Party.

Manager

BMO Investments Inc., an indirect, wholly-owned subsidiary of Bank of Montreal ("BMO"), is the Manager and trustee of the Fund. The Manager is paid a management fee by the Fund as compensation for its services, which is described in the "Management Fees" section later in this document.

Portfolio Manager

The Fund's portfolio manager is BMO Asset Management Inc. ("BMOAM"), an affiliate of the Manager. BMOAM provides portfolio management services to the Fund. BMOAM receives from the Manager a management fee based on assets under management, calculated daily and payable monthly.

Administration Fee and Operating Expenses

The Fund pays a fixed administration fee to the Manager in respect of each series other than Series I. The Manager in return pays the operating expenses of these series of the Fund, other than certain specified expenses that are paid directly by the Fund ("Fund Expenses"). Fund Expenses are allocated proportionately among the relevant series. If the Fund Expenses are specific to a series, the Fund Expenses are allocated to that series. The fixed administration fee is calculated as a fixed annual percentage of the net asset value of each relevant series of the Fund. The annual fixed administration fee rate for each series of the Fund other than Series I is 0.15%. The administration fee is subject to applicable taxes. The Manager may, in certain cases, waive a portion of the administration fee that it receives from the Fund or from certain series of the Fund. Separate fees and expenses are negotiated and paid directly by each Series I investor. Further details about the fixed administration fee, Fund Expenses and/or operating expenses can be found in the Fund's most recent simplified prospectus at www.bmo.com/gam/ca/advisor/legal-and-regulatory or www.sedar.com.

Buying and Selling Securities

During the Period, the Fund relied on standing instructions provided by the independent review committee ("IRC") for any of the following related party transactions that may have occurred in the Fund (each, a "Related Party Transaction"):

- (a) investments in securities issued by BMO, an affiliate of the Manager, or any other issuer related to the Manager;
- (b) investments in a class of securities of an issuer during the period of distribution of those securities to the public and/or the 60-day period following the distribution period where BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., an affiliate of the Manager, or any other affiliate of the Manager acted as an underwriter in the distribution;
- (c) trades in over-the-counter debt securities in the secondary market with BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., or any other affiliate of the Manager, acting as principal in the Canadian debt securities market; and
- (d) trades of a security of any issuer from or to, another investment fund managed by the Manager or an affiliate of the Manager or a managed account managed by the Manager or an affiliate of the Manager.

BMO Retirement Balanced Portfolio

In accordance with the IRC's standing instructions, in making a decision to cause the Fund to enter into a Related Party Transaction, the Manager and the portfolio manager of the Fund are required to comply with the Manager's written policies and procedures governing the Related Party Transaction and report periodically to the IRC, describing each instance that the Manager relied on the standing instructions and its compliance or non-compliance with the governing policies and procedures. The governing policies and procedures are designed to ensure that each Related Party Transaction (i) is made free from any influence of BMO, BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. or an associate or affiliate of BMO and/or BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., and without taking into account any considerations relevant to BMO, BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc. or an associate or affiliate of BMO and/or BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc.; (ii) represents the business judgment of the Manager, uninfluenced by considerations other than the best interests of the Fund; and (iii) achieves a fair and reasonable result for the Fund.

Brokerage Commissions

The Fund pays standard brokerage commissions at market rates to BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., an affiliate of the Manager, for executing a portion of its trades. The brokerage commissions charged to the Fund (excluding exchange and other fees) during the periods indicated, were as follows:

	Period ended Mar. 31, 2023 $000	Period ended Mar. 31, 2022 $000
Total brokerage commissions	75	124
Brokerage commissions paid to BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc.	31	57

Distribution Services

The Manager markets and distributes the Fund through BMO branches and/or (depending on the series) through registered dealers and brokers, including BMO InvestorLine Inc. and BMO Nesbitt Burns Inc., both affiliates of the Manager. The Manager pays to these affiliates a service fee called a "trailing commission" based on the average daily value of the units and/or shares that are held in investor accounts. This service fee is paid monthly or quarterly and varies by purchase option and by series. Effective on or after June 1, 2022, series of units of the Fund that pay a service fee are no longer available for purchase by investors who hold those securities in an account with BMO InvestorLine Inc.

* Initial net assets.

⁽²⁾ Includes commissions and other portfolio transaction costs and withholding taxes.

⁽³⁾ Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period. This table is not intended to be a reconciliation of beginning to ending net assets per unit.

⁽⁵⁾ The information shown in this column is for the period beginning March 8, 2019 (the series' inception date) and ending September 30, 2019.

+ Operating expenses are paid by BMOII and management fees are paid directly to BMOII as negotiated with the investor.

⁽¹⁾ This information is provided as at March 31 or September 30 of the period shown, as applicable.

⁽²⁾ Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

⁽³⁾ The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

⁽⁵⁾ The information shown in this column is for the period beginning March 8, 2019 (the series' inception date) and ending September 30, 2019.

Management Fees

The Manager is responsible for the day-to-day management of the business and operations of the Fund. The Manager monitors and evaluates the Fund's performance, pays for the investment advice provided by the Fund's portfolio manager and provides certain administrative services required by the Fund. As compensation for its services, the Manager is entitled to receive a management fee payable monthly, calculated based on the daily net asset value of each series of the Fund at the annual rate set out in the table below. The management fee is subject to applicable taxes. The Manager may, at its discretion, waive a portion or the entire amount of the management fee chargeable at any given time for each series of the Fund.

PAST PERFORMANCE

The Fund's performance information assumes that all distributions made by the Fund in the periods shown were reinvested in additional securities of the Fund and is based on the net asset value of the Fund. The reinvestment of distributions increases returns. The performance information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution, other optional charges or income taxes payable that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance. Please remember that how the Fund has performed in the past does not indicate how it will perform in the future.

The returns of each series may differ from one another for a number of reasons, including if the series was not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period and because of the different levels of management fees and expenses allocated and payable by each series.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following bar charts show the performance of each series of the Fund for each of the financial years shown and for the six-month period ended March 31, 2023, and illustrate how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The charts show in percentage terms how an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have increased or decreased by the last day of each financial year.
