FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Bank of Montreal's public communications often include written or oral forward-looking statements. Statements of this type are included in this presentation, and may be included in other filings with Canadian securities regulators or the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, or in other communications. All such statements are made pursuant to the "safe harbor" provisions of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 and of any applicable Canadian securities legislation. Forward-looking statements may involve, but are not limited to, comments with respect to our objectives and priorities for 2006 and beyond, our strategies or future actions, our targets, expectations for our financial condition or share price, and the results of or outlook for our operations or for the Canadian and U.S. economies.

By their nature, forward-looking statements require us to make assumptions and are subject to inherent risks and uncertainties. There is significant risk that predictions, forecasts, conclusions or projections will not prove to be accurate, that our assumptions may not be correct and that actual results may differ materially from such predictions, forecasts, conclusions or projections. We caution readers of this presentation not to place undue reliance on our forward-looking statements as a number of factors could cause actual future results, conditions, actions or events to differ materially from the targets, expectations, estimates or intentions expressed in the forward-looking statements.

The future outcomes that relate to forward-looking statements may be influenced by many factors, including but not limited to: general economic conditions in the countries in which we operate; interest rate and currency value fluctuations; changes in monetary policy; the degree of competition in the geographic and business areas in which we operate; changes in laws; judicial or regulatory proceedings; the accuracy and completeness of the information we obtain with respect to our customers and counterparties; our ability to execute our strategic plans and to complete and integrate acquisitions; critical accounting estimates; operational and infrastructure risks; general political conditions; global capital market activities; the possible effects on our business of war or terrorist activities; disease or illness that affects local, national or international economies, and disruptions to public infrastructure, such as transportation, communications, power or water supply; and technological changes.

We caution that the foregoing list is not exhaustive of all possible factors. Other factors could adversely affect our results. For more information, please see the discussion on pages 29 and 30 of BMO's 2005 Annual Report concerning the effect certain key factors that may affect BMO's future results. When relying on forward-looking statements to make decisions with respect to Bank of Montreal, investors and others should carefully consider these factors, as well as other uncertainties and potential events, and the inherent uncertainty of forward-looking statements. Bank of Montreal does not undertake to update any forward-looking statement, whether written or oral, that may be made from time to time by the organization or on its behalf.

Assumptions on how the Canadian and U.S. economies will perform in 2006 and how that impacts our businesses were material factors we considered when setting our strategic priorities and objectives, and in determining our financial targets for the fiscal year, including provisions for credit losses. Key assumptions included that the Canadian and U.S. economies would expand at a healthy pace in 2006 and that inflation would remain low. We also assumed that interest rates would increase gradually in both countries in 2006 and that the Canadian dollar would hold onto its recent gains. We believe that these assumptions are still valid and have continued to rely upon them in considering our ability to achieve our 2006 financial targets. In determining our expectations for economic growth, both broadly and in the financial services sector, we primarily consider historical economic data provided by the Canadian and U.S. governments and their agencies. Tax laws in the countries in which we operate, primarily Canada and the United States, are material factors we consider when determining our sustainable effective tax rate.

	Build a high-performing, customer-focused organization supported by a world-class foundation of productive technologies, efficient processes, disciplined performance management, sound risk management and governance
INVESTOR COMMUNITY BREAKFAST - DECEMBER 2006

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

Canada

- Economy will continue to grow at a moderate pace in 2007 though improve through the year as the negative impact of the strong Canadian dollar dissipates
- Housing market is expected to moderate further, however business investment is anticipated to remain strong
- Interest rates expected to remain stable which, along with steady economic expansion, should support fee-based activities
- Resource-producing provinces are expected to lead the nation's expansion

U.S.

- Economy will continue to expand in 2007 though at a more moderate pace relative to 2006. The slowing is largely a reflection of weakness in housing. The downside will be limited by oil prices next year averaging below 2006 levels.
- Past increases in interest rates should continue to temper demand for residential mortgages and personal loans, however continued strong business investment should support growth in business loans
- The U.S. dollar is expected to depreciate against most major currencies in the year ahead in response to an easing in Federal Reserve policy

2007 FINANCIAL TARGETS

Ongoing commitment to productivity improvement

INVESTOR COMMUNITY BREAKFAST - DECEMBER 2006 15

SHAREHOLDER-FRIENDLY COMPENSATION MODEL

Short-Term

Determined by:

- Enterprise business performance measures (e.g. growth in EPS and revenue)
- Banking group measures (e.g. growth in net income and revenue)

Mid-Term

- Productivity goals and three-year TSR vs. competitors
- Higher pool if goals are exceeded — reduced if goals are not met

Long-Term

- Reflects commitment to 'price performance options'
- Some share options vest over time and are worthless unless share price growth exceeds certain hurdles during the vesting period
